

States Have Neighbors Too!

A neighboring state is any state that touches the border of your state.

We have a lot in common with our state neighbors: some of our land is alike. We share some history.

We share borders. The major difference between people and states: states don't move away!

Directions: Write the name of your state and neighboring states below. Then color Your state Red and your neighboring states yellow.

Your State: _____

Neighbor States: _____
